LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

From the London Economist:
THE LONDON AND THE MOST AUTHENTIC DETAILS OF THE REVOLUTION IN FRANCE ARE PUBLISHED.
The story of our country to this point is the subject of which it ought to be specially fixed, and it has been done in a manner that is entirely too general. We hope that there is still time to apply such a sudden break up of the revolution as will not only save us from a greater present evil than slavery itself, but also, we hope, that there is no probability of ever again being exposed to such a danger as the same calamity, with the addition of innumerable and insidious afflictions, as we find them existing at the present time.
It is still when such a calamity is within the range of discussion, it is fitting to have the last and final effort made to present to our people a more detailed history of the Revolution. It appears that we last year imported more cotton from France than from all other countries, and that we sent out 260,582 lbs. to us. In the three highest years it was:

1845.	1,023,886
1846.	1,024,886
1847.	1,024,886

Showing an augmentation over each year—the last three years—of 163,000 lbs. per annum.

The most cotton, however, sent to us from America, stimulated, doubtless, by the events of the revolution, is evident in the course of the future. The figures show:

Imports of cotton from United States,

1845.	1,115,607
1846.	1,100,000
1847.	1,100,000
